ABOUT ME

Student in Computer Engineering at the Coimbra Instituto Superior de Engenharia de Coimbra, specializing in Information Systems, and Football Referee since January 2023. Through my professional experiences and extracurricular activities, I have developed various skills that I consider valuable in the workplace, such as effective communication, proactivity, assertiveness, and excellent problem-solving abilities. Despite these achievements, I feel there is still much to learn, with the goal of continuously adding value to the company where I apply my knowledge. I am passionate about technology and motivated by challenges that allow me to grow and contribute with innovative solutions.

PERSONAL SKILLS

Social Skills and Competencies

Team Spirit.

I was selected for various mobility programs abroad by my school and the municipal council due to my academic merit, including trips to Barcelona, Turkey, and a one-month internship in Málaga in my field. During this time, I developed the ability to adapt to the projects I was involved in and improved my communication skills in English. Through these internships, I gained insight into how a development team operates, which fostered my team spirit.

IT Skills and Competencies

Ability to understand and implement algorithms effectively.

Proficient in programming languages such as HTML, CSS, JavaScript, PHP, C#, C++, Java, and Python.

In the area of databases (SQL), I have gained proficiency in creating and applying them through training.

I have a strong interest in computer architecture and other technological equipment.
